

You Put the Hurt on Me

Christopher Stapleton and Mike Henderson (SteelDrivers)

There's a light on in the kitchen
Where I been losin' sleep
It seems to me since you been gone
The dark got twice as deep
My mind tries to forget you
But my heart comes back for more
"Cause you put a hurt on me
Like I never felt before

Don't need no guilty conscience
To follow me around
Don't need no one to tell me
Why the rain keeps pourin' down
Don't need another dark cloud
Hangin' 'round outside my door
'Cause you put a hurt on me
Like I never felt before

(chorus)

*The flames have turned to ashes
But there's still some embers left
Missin' you is harder than
The whiskey on my breath
I never had a memory cut
A path as wide as yours
"Cause you put a hurt on me
Like I never felt before"*

(Repeat)
